MONEY MONEY.

We have a word to say to our readers, not to that portion of them, that always punctually pay up; but to that class who take the paper year in, and year out, and never think of paying the printer. They act as if they never intended to pay, so long at least, as they can get the paper without paying. Now, with us this practice is "played out." We want our money and we intend to have it. Pay up gentleman or stop taking the REPUBLICAN. Pay up the old score, and we will again trust you. We have sent bills to nearly every patron in arrears, and yet you heed them not. This cannot go on forever.

We also, hereby notify all candidates who owe us for printing tickets during the last three years, to call and settle their accounts, between this and the April court, or we will immediately after the adjournment of the Court, place their accounts in the hands of a Justice of the Peace for collection. We want our money and we intend to have it. If there is no virtue in dans, we will have to try what there is in law. We think men who wish their fellow men to work for them and honor them, should be willing to pay their legitimate printers bills.

All persons indebted for Job work will please call—settle and pay up.

IN canvassing the claims of the candidates for the Cincinnati nomination for the Presidency, a Washington correspondent says that Judge Davis' chances are not good, because he is worth two millions of dollars, chiefly gained by fighting trades' unions and labor leagues, and is not, therefore, a representative of labor, and his nomination by the labor party was a cheat. The Democratic leaders would take Charles Francis Adams, but the rank and file would cut him dead for his course towards the Fenians when he was Minister to England; so that will shelve Mr. Adams as an unavailable candidate. Judge Trumbull will not do for a candidate, because the western Democracy remember him with anything but blessings for the part he took in breaking up the order of the Knights of the Golden Circle. But a new ticket brought on lately, says the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Star "is of General Logan for President, and Governor Curtin for Vice President. This ticket meets with great favor in the sorehead Republican camp, but the Democracy have little to say with regard to it. McClure has given out that Curtin can sweep Pennsylvania against any man, and as Pennsylvania goes, so goes the Union. Greeley is strong for Curtin, and has his men working him up for the nomination." Those who take stock in anything McClure says, will find it a poor investment. His indorsement of Curtin is not worth a copper, and would go to protest in quicker time than it would take to make it. Curtin had a heavy load to carry in his last campaign in this State, if the people only knew it, and we do not think he will risk his political future with the same heavy weights again.

WE have the authority of the Portland (Me.) Press for the statement that Mr. Nast, the eminent cartoonist, happened to meet Mr. Schurz in Washington the other day, and that the following conversation took place: Said Schruz to Nast, "You won't make any more pictures of me sir." "Indeed; why not?" inquired Nast. "Because," replied Schurz, "you will be so instructed by your employers; and if you persist, you will be chastised, sir." Which is quite as valiant on the part of the Missouri Senator as was the conduct of a gentleman who, meeting a person who had done him many injuries, addressed him thus: "Sir, you have called me a liar; you have pulled my nose; you have insulted my family. I wish to warn you, sir, that if you go one step farther you may rouse the sleeping lion of my wrath, and then I shall not be responsible for the consequences to you, sir." We do not think the life insurance companies will suddenly increase their premium on the Nast risk because of the Schurz threats. Like mine ancient Pistol, the Hon. Carl wouldn't swagger a Barbary hen, if her feathers turned up in show of resistance.

AN EXPENSIVE INVESTIGATION COMMITTEE.

Senator Buckalew had the honor of running the M'Clure-Gray investigation committee, and in order to show the tax payers how well he performed the task, we append a partial list of items of the expenses of his committee. The money was spent under his immediate control, and a large portion of it was actually drawn by him from the State Treasury and paid out to his own especial favorites. The bill of items runs as follows, viz:

For reporters and their assistants	$ 5,557 50
For printing evidence, 500 copies	1,703 26
Geo J Bolton's bill (Washington House)	2,324 35
Seargeant-at-arms and assistants	350 00
Clerical and messengers' service for committee	869 60
John A. Loughridge, prothonotary	45 00
Contestant for 1,094 witnesses in attendance	1,573 50
Contestant for serving subpœnas	1,402 50
Respondent for 935 witnesses paid by committee	1,452 50
Respondent for serving subpœnas	1,591 00
Printing subpœna cards	64 00
Making election boxes, express charges and miscellaneous	125 00
Unpaid witnesses of respondent	1,450 00
A. K. M'Clure (extraordinary expenses)	2,500 00
H. W. Gray " "	1,500 00
A. K. M'Clure (salary)	1,033 06
H. W. Gray (salary)	1,000 00
Seven Senators, comprising the committee, at $500 each	3,500 00
Total	$25,686 11

To the above bill may safely be added five thousand dollars for miscellaneous expenses, not reported above, but which is to be settled by the State Treasurer. The contest for this seat will therefore cost the State over thirty thousand dollars. Remember, tax-payers, the committee was Democratic.

Now, let us examine the above bill of items a little more fully:

The first item for reporting is	$2,657 50
Clerical and messenger service	700 00
	$3,357 50

Three thousand three hundred and fifty-seven dollars and fifty cents for reporting and clerical services for ONE MONTH is monstrous. Clerks to former contested election committees occupying a whole winter received but one thousand dollars, but under Mr. Buckalew treble pay must be allowed. For printing evidence, 500 copies, $1,703 26. Under the regular contract with the State Printer this would not have cost five hundred dollars, but an especial reform pet was employed in Philadelphia, and the State paid him four prices.

The next bill is an item for boarding, washing and entertaining the committee, seven members, for about three weeks, at a hotel, $2,324 35. This is not expensive, when we consider how the committee lived; but we object to the State paying all these expenses.—The Senators were paid their regular salary and, in addition, for serving on the committee, five hundred dollars extra (which was certainly a small amount when we consider how Mr. Buckalew had to stretch his conscience when he wrote the report contrary to all the evidence).

The other items in the above bill are all equally extravagant as the three above named, and we only refer to these to show tax-payers and those Republicans who are disposed to give Mr. Buckalew some credit for political fairness and honesty, that he is like all other Democrats, always for self, from first to last.

The Republicans of the Fourth Senatorial district must be especially gratified to find that they have saddled the State with the above exhorbitant bill of expenses.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

POLITICAL.—The Democrats of Rhode Island have appointed delegates to a National Democratic Convention, "if there should be one held." This sounds sepulchural, as though the Rhode Island Democracy were uncertain whether their party was alive.

The St. Louis Republican, though a Democratic paper, is the godmother of the Cincinnati Convention, and rebukes the assertion that this gathering is intended merely for conference and to influence the Philadelphia Convention. It avows that the object of the Cincinnati movement is to fight the Philadelphia ticket, and that it propose to fight in any event. With such an understanding, what Republicans will participate?

THE reduction of the public debt during the month of March was fifteen million four hundred and eighty-one thousand nine hundred and sixty-eight dollars. During Gen. Grant's term of office it has been reduced three hundred and fifteen million one hundred and thirty-one thousand seven hundred and seventy-seven dollars!

CONVENTION DAY.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE Republican State Convention.

Temporary Organization.

GEN. HARTRANFT NOMINATED.

GEN. GRANT THE UNANIMOUS CHOICE.

At 12 o'clock, Hon. Russell Errett, Chairman of the State Central Committee said: Gentlemen, the hour named by the State Central Committee for the assembling of this Convention has arrived, and the Convention will therefore come to order.

I am sorry to see a great many gentlemen who are members of this Convention occupying the floor unable to obtain seats. I trust that gentlemen who know themselves not to be members of this Convention will give up their seats to members.

Mr. Errett. The secretaries of the State committee have prepared a list of delegates to this Convention from the best information within their reach.—They will now proceed to call the roll as they have prepared it, and if there are any mistakes in names, or seats to be contested, gentlemen will please speak as their names are called. The secretaries will proceed with the call.

Gen Charles Albright said that before the call was proceeded with he would like to see some provision made for seating delegates. He suggested that the Sergeant-at-Arms see that delegates are provided with seats.

Mr. Errett (Chairman). The trouble with the Sergeant-at-Arms is that he does not know delegates from those who are not delegates.

General Albright moved that the roll be called, and as the names of delegates are called, they come forward and take their seats, and that until the roll is called the seats be vacated.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. Errett (chairman) appointed G L Braun, of Dauphin, temporary Sergeant-at-Arms.

The roll was then called, and all the delegates responded to their names.

We have not space, nor do we deem it necessary to insert the names of the Senatorial and Representative Delegates.

NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR.

Mr. Rutan moved that the Convention proceed to nominate a candidate for Governor. Agreed to.

H. K. Weand. Mr. President, I desire to place in nomination the name of a soldier well known to the country at large, as well as to the people of this State; one whose loyalty has been tested on many a well-fought battle field, and whose honesty and extensive ability has also been tested in civil life. As a soldier and civilian, he has had but one object in public life, the good of his country and the welfare of his State. His soldier record dates from the first battle of Bull Run to Appomattox, and his civil administration from 1865 to the present day. Ever true, he will have no policy to interpose against the will of the people. I nominate Major General John F. Hartranft, of Montgomery county. [Applause.]

Mr. L. D. Shoemaker nominated Winthrop W. Ketchum.

Mr. E. P. Hildebrand nominated Gen. Harry White, Col E. B. Moore nominated Hon. Danl J. Morrell.

Mr. Henry Todd, of Philadelphia. Mr. President, I have a letter here from General Harry White, which I would like to submit to the convention.

The letter was read, as follows:

HARRISBURG, April 10, 1872.

Henry Todd, Esq., Delegate from the Twelfth Representative District of Philadelphia:

MY DEAR SIR—For some time past my name has been used before the people of the Commonwealth as a candidate for the nomination of Governor.

Through the kind partiality of yourself and many fellow citizens in different parts of the State, I am assured of liberal and generous support in the convention. Recently, however, it has been manifest to me a majority of the delegates will favor the nomination of another gentleman. Accepting, as I do, practical results, I am satisfied the votes cast for me to-day in the convention would in the end be but complimentary. It is not my desire longer to stand in the way of secured results for any mere compliment to myself.

You are therefore authorized to withdraw my name from before the Convention. With sincere thanks for the kind partialities, a good offer in my behalf of yourself and other friends, and with my best hopes for the triumph and success of our great party, in the campaign now opening, I am, very truely, yours,

HARRY WHITE.

Hon. James S. Rutan. Mr. President, I move that the roll now be called, and that we proceed to vote for candidates for the nomination of Governor.

The motion was carried, and the roll was called with the following result:

The President. The clerks agree in their tallies. Gen. J. F Hartfrant has received 87 votes, W. W. Ketcham 45, and Daniel J. Morrell 1.

Mr. Rutan said that Col Thompson lived west of the Alleghenies, and is one of the ablest talkers in the State; one who could go upon the stump and make capital all over the Commonwealth.

Colonel A. Wilcox. If gentlemen held that opinion they would vote for General Allen. [Applause.] We have yielded all the other points, now give us General Allen.

The President appointed as the committee General Albright, of Carbon; Wm Elliott, of Philadelphia, and P. C. Shannon, of Allegheny.

(Concluded Next Week.)

THE following resolutions were very unanimously adopted at a meeting of the German Republican Central Committee of New York. This action settles the question so far as our German fellow citizens in the Empire State are concerned, and we think the example will be followed by their brethren throughout the country:

Resolved, That the Republicans of the city and county of New York pledge their unqualified support to the candidate for the Presidency who will get the nomination by the next Republican National Convention.

Resolved, That we endorse the present administration, and express confidence in its integrity and ability.

TWO-THIRDS OF ONE PER CENT.—The idea that the gentleman who received two-thirds of one per cent., of the Evans plunder should attempt to rule the Republican State Convention, and abuse Gen. Hartranft for endeavoring to recover the embezzled funds of the State, created considerable merriment among the delegates in this city yesterday. A man who sells himself so dog cheap should not expect to rule an intelligent convention of the Republican party. The attempt displays much vanity and more presumption.—Telegraph.

The Protective Policy makes Labor Contented and Capital Secure.

SPEECH.

OF

HON. JOHN SCOTT,

OF PENNSYLVANIA.

DELIVERED

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES,

MARCH 15, 1872.

The Senate having under consideration the bill (H. R. No. 173) to repeal the duties on salt—

Mr. SCOTT said:

Mr. PRESIDENT: Having presented an amendment putting tea and coffee on the free list, which,as the honorable Senator from Ohio, the chairman of the Finance Committee states, presents the turning point to be decided upon the bill now before the Senate, I claim indulgence while I submit the views which prompt me to offer that amendment and ask its adoption.

The exhibit of our national finances made by the Secretary of the Treasury demonstrates that unless the current of business is disturbed by some unforseen cause we can in the next fiscal year pay $50,000 000 toward the extinction of our national debt, and reduce taxation to an amount ranging between thirty-six and fifty million dollars. To be more exact upon this subject, let me submit a few figures. In the Secretary's annual report the receipts are estimated for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1873, at $359,000,000. The extraordinary increase of impor's has warranted an addition to the estimate of receipts from customs of at least $6.000,000. Let me state at this point the exact increase over the estimate of the customs to show that there is very little danger to be appre'ended of the deficit of which warning has been given in the House of Representatives, and which has been so satisfactorily met by the chairman of the Committee on Finance.

The Secretary of the Treasury, in his estimates for the year ending June 30, 1872, placed the receipts from customs at $175,000,000. For the eight months that have passed of that fiscal year, the receipts, according to a table furnished by the Commissioner of Customs, are $145,453 170 making a monthly average of $18,181 000. If that average be maintained during the year, the receipts from customs, instead of $175,000,000, as estimated, will be $218,179.000, or an excess of $43.000,000 over the estimate.

The expenditures, including $50,000,000 to be paid to the sinking fund and upon the national debt, are estimated at $323,025,773 99, which would make the excess of receipts over expenditures $42,974.226 01. I have added, however, only $6,000,000 to the excess for customs. The chairman has added, if I recollect his figures aright, $12,000,000 to the estimate of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. SHERMAN. Fourteen millions.

Mr. SCOTT. He has added $14,000,000, which would be $8,000,000 over the estimate I have made. These $8.000,000. would make an excess of $50,974 000 I think the estimate of the chairman of the committee is certainly not excessive in view of the experience of the current year.

The question presented,then,is in what manner is this reduction of $50,000,000 to be made? In looking at that, the recommendations of the head of our finances are certainly first entitled to our consideration and respect. What are they? First he says:

"In the suggestions I have the honor to make in reference to the reduction of taxes,I keep in view two important facts: first, that the ability of the nation to pay at least $50,000,000 annually of the principal of the public debt shall not be impaired; and secondly, in the change of the revenue system, no violence shall be done to the business interests of the country."

He proceeds:

"It is practicable to dispense with all revenue from internal sources, except that derived from stamps, spirits,tobacco, and malt liquors. These sources should furnish for the year 1872 73 a revenue of about $110.000,000, making a reduction of taxes of $16,000,000."

Showing, then, an estimate of customs which would authorize a reduction of $20,000,000 more, making in all $36,000,000, and which, under the increased receipts from customs, will be safely placed at $50,000,000, he proceeds to "recommend to the consideration of Congress the reduction of the duties on salt to the extent of fifty per cent., the duty on bituminous coal to fifty cents per ton, the reduction of the duty on raw hides and skins, and the removal of all duties from a large class of articles produced in other countries which enter into the arts and manufactures of this country and which are produced in the United States, and the revenue from which is inconsiderable." He further states:

"The removal of duties from a large class of articles used in manufactures, and the reduction of the duties upon coal, furnish an opportunity for a moderate decrease of the rates of duties upon those products, whose cost will be diminished by these changes. While nothing as the consequence of legislation could be more disastrous to the public prosperity than a policy which should destroy or seriously disturb the manufacturing interests of the country, it is still possible, by wise and moderate changes, adapted to the condition of business and labor, to reduce the rates of duties with benefit to every class of people."

We here have the Secretary's policy, which may be summarized thus:

1. The abolition of all internal taxes but those on stamps, spirits,malt liquors, and tobacco.

2. A reduction of duties on coal, salt, raw hides, and skins.

3. An enlargement of the free list to embrace raw materials not produced in the United States.

4. A moderate decrease of duties on products whose cost will be diminished by these changes.

The first three of these recommendations are specific or so nearly so as to leave little room for diversity of opinion in their application. The fourth leaves room for some difference of opinion in its application.

Let us see how much of the proposed reduction will be effected by carrying out the specific recommendations: first, internal taxes $16,000,000; second, coal reduced to fifty cents per ton would cause a reduction of $322,882; third, salt as reduced by the bill will make a reduction of $558,050 08; fourth, raw hides and skins at the rate reported would make a reduction of $671,589 09; fifth, the free list $3.137,030 87.

There have been a few changes made by the committee since I made these estimates,which perhaps vary the amount on the free list to some small extent. These estimates are based upon the imports for the year ending June 30, 1871, and they make an aggregate reduction of $20.719,552 04. Now, the bill reported by the committee proposes to reduce duties, in addition to those specifically recommended by the Secretary, on the following articles, namely: by section one, on tea, coffee, rice, potatoes, lumber, and furniture, fruit and ornamental trees, garden seeds, lead, ginger, twine, hemp-yarn, roots, cocoa, and iron-wire cloth; by section two, ten per cent. of the existing duties is taken off the articles therein named, being chiefly textile and metallic productions, aggregating a reduction of $8,274,716 51,as estimated upon the basis of the imports for the year ending June 30, 1871. The whole reduction of duties, as proposed by the bill, is $22,507,353 26. If to these you add the proposed reduction of internal taxes, amounting to $16,000,000, the total reduction will be $38,507,353 26. Take the whole proposed reduction of duties, $22.507,353 26, and deduct from it the proposed free list, $3,137,030 87, the proposed reduction on tea and coffee, $7.646,588 29, and $11,723,734 10 will be what is proposed to be taken from the present duties upon articles produced in our own country. This takes nearly one fourth of the proposed reduction from duties on articles which come in competition with the industries of our own people, and, as will be observed by examining the articles enumerated in sections one and two, they are not largely made up of those which would come within the recommendations of the Secretary of the Treasury, namely, those whose cost of production would be decreased by the reduction of duty upon coal and raw materials. These modifications affect alike the manufacturer, the agriculturist,the miner,and all dependent upon them. Coal, salt, rice, potatoes, hides, lumber, furniture, lead, iron, cotton, wool, fruit trees, garden seeds, &c., all come in for reduction.

Agreeing with the purpose of the Committee on Finance to pay $50,000,000 annually of the debt, and at the same time reduce taxes and duties to as large an amount as safety will permit, I feel constrained at this point to differ from the majority of the committee as to the mode adopted in effecting that reduction.

Presuming that the reduction of internal taxes to the amount of $16.000,000 will be added to the bill, (and it may as well go into this bill as into a separate one; we have the power to add it as well as any other amendment,) the reduction stops at $8,000,000. Now, instead of re-reducing duties on tea and coffee, add them to the free list, and you have $12,000,000 more, ($7,000,000 having been computed as reduction, and the whole revenue from them for 1871 being $19,000 000,) which, if the other features of the bill stand, would carry the reduction to $50,000,000.

But there are features of the bill which ought not to stand, and there are other internal taxes which we can repeal if we do not permit those features to remain. What are they? Strike out the reduction of duties made by the first and second sections, and, instead thereof, make tea and coffee free, reducing the revenue $19,000,000; permit the free list to stand as proposed $3,137,030; repeal stamp duties $16,000,000, and other internal taxes, as proposed by the Secretary of the Treasury, $16,000,000 more, and you have an aggregate of $54,137,030. But in this last proposed reduction,$16,000,000 of internal revenue taxes named by the Secretary of the Treasury, are included $6,500,000 of income tax, which he estimates would remain over uncollected and be received in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1873; and as we can now entertain no hope of relief from that hated incubus, which I trust will never more be renewed, the reduction for that year would be less by $6,500,000, on the Secretary's assumption that it will not all be collected in the current fiscal year, and $6,500,000 will run over into next. The repeal of these internal taxes it may safely be presumed will reduce the estimated expenditures in collecting them at least $1,500,000. I observed that the chairman put it at $2,500,000 or $2,000,000, and I am below his estimate. This, and the $6,500,000 of income tax, will reduce the $54,137,030 to $46,137,030. If it still be insisted that the Secretary's recommendation as to coal, salt, and hides be adhered to, they make $1,582,521, and you still have a reduction of $47.719,551, or nearly three million dollars less than I have shown, we may with safety reduce the revenue.

Two modes are thus proposed. The one is first to reduce the duties on tea and coffee about one third of what they are at present; second, reduce the present duties on manufactures ten per.; third, adopt the free list; and fourth, abolish $16,000,000 of internal revenue taxes, which, as I have already shown, would actually be a reduction of only $10.000,000, if the people pay the arrearages of $6,000,000 of income tax. The other mode is to make tea and coffee free, repeal all internal taxes except those on spirits, malt liquors, and tobacco, let the proposed free list remain, and do not otherwise change existing duties.

This substantially brings before the Senate the two views of this question which have been presented by the country; and as the people themselves have sent us their views of it, instead of endeavoring to place them in any new form, I adopt the two forms in which they come before us in the petitions from opposite sources.

In the first place, who are complaining of these duties upon manufactures? Are they our own people to any large degree? The petitions that have been presented against them are principally headed thus:

"Remonstrance of the American Free-Trade League against the repeal of the duties on tea and coffee."

I use the form of one presented by the Senator from Illinois, [MR. TRUMBULL,] either at the present or the last session. What do they say?

"To the Senate and House of Representatives in Congress assembled:

"The American Free-Trade League respectfully remonstrate against the repeal of the duties on tea and coffee, and would represent to your honorable bodies that such repeal would deprive the Government of over thirteen million dollars of revenue"—

This was adapted to the previous year; it is now $19,000,000—

"and therefore render difficult the repeal of other far more burdensome duties which yield but little revenue to the Government at a very much heavier cost to the people.

"That the true object of revenue reform is not to repeal duties which are levied for revenue, and under which all the money taken from the people is received by the Government, and contributes to pay those expenses which the people must in some form bear, but to reform the tariff so as to repeal those duties which yield little revenue, and tax the people heavily to support favored monopolies.

"The League respectfully represent that the money which is taken from the people by the duties on tea and coffee is received by the Government, but that the duties on iron, lumber, blankets, coal, salt, take many millions from the people, of which only a very small portion is received by the Treasury, the larger part going as tribute to favored manufacturers."

They proceed to illustrate by examples and figures, and then close with this prayer:

"Your remonstrants would further show that if the duties on carpets, pig and refined iron, thread, common window-glass, paint, lumber, blankets, clothing, leather, were repealed, the loss to the revenue would be about the same as the loss occasioned by the repeal of the duties on tea and coffee; but the saving to the people would be in the case of tea and coffee only $13.000,000; whereas the repeal of the duties on pig and refined iron alone would relieve them from a burden of over seventy-five million dollars."

Now I ask attention to this:

"The League therefore pray that your honorable bodies will now abolish those duties"—

not reduce them—

"which keep up grievous monopolies, that oppress the people, and violate every principle of right and justice, and leave undisturbed equitable duties, like those upon tea and coffee."

Here it is asserted that the duties upon tea and coffee, which we do dot produce, are equitable, while those on carpets, pig and refined iron, thread, common window-glass, paint, lumber, blankets, clothing, and leather, all of which we do produce, violate every principle of right and justice.

Thus I have given the Free-Trade League the benefit of its own statement of the case; and before proceeding to a statement of the other side of the question I wish to advert to the fact that it is well understood that this Free-Trade League, although called an American Free Trade League, is composed principally of the representatives of the manufacturing houses of Great Britain located in New York, is sustained by their money, and that these petitions come here at their instance.

Mr. MORRILL, of Vermont. And at their expense.

Mr. SCOTT. And at their expense, as suggested by my friend from Vermont.

I now take up a petition which comes from the workingmen of the country; and sir, they have come here in large numbers. I have presented, them, I believe without exception, every morning of the session since the holidays in regular course as they came by mail. They say:

"The undersigned,workers in——,and citizens of——, in the State of——, respectfully remonstrate against a change of the existing tariff laws abating or abolishing duties upon such articles as are successfully produced in this country. We are advised and believe that such action will be urged upon your honorable bodies, by the English capitalists who maintain the Free-Trade League."

Showing that the workingmen of this country understand from whence the call for free trade comes:

"We respectfully pray for the repeal of all duties upon tea, coffee, and such other articles of necessity or comfort as cannot be produced in the United States and we further pray that as Representatives of the American people, you will take care that duties shall be so adjusted as to encourage and defend every home industry, and to foster the honor and interests of the American laborer."

These are the opposite views presented by foreign capital and American labor, and it is between these two elements that the real contest exists which we are to decide. The former asks you to tax tea and coffee, now necessaries upon every mans table, and to abolish the duties upon those articles named by them in the production and manufacture of which American labor is employed at good wages. The latter ask you to relieve them from the tax upon their daily sustenance, and to continue those duties under the operation of which our Government maintained its life in war, and is paying its debt in peace; our people find employment, good wages, and prosperity and we see the country developing its resources, opening new farms, building new cities, gathering new treasures from the mine, stretching out its iron highways and binding the hitherto widely separated portions of the land by new ties of social and commercial intercourse.

Foreign capital sees plainly that the continuance of our present system for the half of another generation, the permanent establishment of American manufactures, with educated, intelligent labor to conduct them, demanding and receiving, as intelligent workmen will, a fair proportionate dividend of the product of capital and labor, must lead inevitably to one of two results: either that capital in Europe must concede an equal reward to labor there, or that labor will leave and come here. Either result is a triumph for and a blessing to the laborer, and hence the anxiety of European manufacturers to command our markets, to drain us of our capital, and to close our manufactories.

I do not propose to enter into any extended discussion of the theories of political economy, satisfied as I am that the true study to engage in now is that of the facts presented to us by the employer and the employed, rather than the speculations of Ricardo, Malthus, Adam Smith, or Stuart Mill. If we so legislate as to secure moderate but sure returns to capital, steady employment, adequate pay a comfortable home, and healthy food to the operative and good schools for his children, to so develop our resources that our own people can enjoy the largest blessings of peace, and other peoples can see that if our rights are disregarded we are so self-reliant in our own supplies of all the essentials for national defense and individual comfort that we will never be long unprepared for war; if we accomplish these results, we need not be disturbed as to whether our statutes do or do not conform to the dogmas of those philosophic dreamers, who,in the worship of their own theories, forget their toiling fellow-creatures.

Attempt to disguise it as you may, sincere as those may be who advocate the contrary theory, the demand for a reduction of duties is a demand for a diminution of the wages of labor. We must meet it as such. It comes at a time when of all others those now charged with the interests of the American people should ponder well before they take any step to the prejudice of free labor. We are asked to abandon the system that carried us safely through that gigantic struggle which became at last a Titan's contest, over which a witnessing world held its breath as the destiny of millions of laboring men hung upon the result.

Slavery was simply in its political or economic aspect, saying nothing of its moral or religious bearings, a labor question. Shall capital own or hire labor? Shall labor have a voice in settling its own wages, or shall capital take all that labor earns and give such a living to the toiler as it in its selfishness may see proper? This was really the underlying question of the rebellion. The slaveholders of the South, keeping up what could be maintained of feudal and baronial prestige and privileges in a republican country, by holding large landed estates and numerous slaves upon them, claimed not simply to preserve those privileges which the law had really guaranteed to them, but to spread that system over all the Territories, and thus secure to capital the control of labor and its wages throughout the nation. That claim was buried beneath the ruins of the rebellion. It lies under the bodies of thousands of the free workingmen of the North, who resisted its impious war upon our Government and sealed a new covenant for the rights of labor with their blood.

That struggle having settled that in this Republic capital should not own labor, the labor question now comes up in another form, and, let it be disguised as it may, its true form when fairly presented is this: will the American people employ and send their money to Europe to pay for foreign labor at low prices, engaged in making products which we can as well produce at home, or will they employ and pay for the labor of our own citizens at the fair compensatory prices which are fixed by the mutual agreement of the intelligent, independent workingman and his employer?

The form in which the free-traders conceal the ugly part of the proposition varies from this, but it covers the same idea. For instance, in the Life of Richard Cobden, page 88, it is stated thus:

"The cardinal principles of free trade, as applied to and incorporated in financial legislation, are that taxes, where necessary, should be laid on for pure purposes of revenue alone; that in their remission, in the choice of those to be remitted, the interests of consumers are paramount and alone to be consulted; and that no tax should be levied in the supposed interests of producers, that for two reasons, each one being all sufficient to bear the conclusion common to them both; first, that no protective tax does benefit the producer, and even if it did, he—representing the minority—has no right to enjoy it at the expense of the majority, namely, the consumers."

I do not stop to discuss the announcement that "no protective tax does benefit the producer." I leave that to those revenue reformers who think its whole design is to benefit the producer, and that the results are such as to justify them in calling them hard names, and declaiming against them as "bloated monopolists." Neither do I stop to discuss the other theory that the interests of the producers are to be utterly ignored. But, in passing, I might perhaps appropriately quote the conclusions of a body of business men equal in intelligence and practical knowledge to any voluntary assembly that convenes in this country, that of the National Board of Trade, held in St. Louis, in December 1871. They resolved, after long debate upon the question—

"That in the revision of the tariff, the cost of production in this country is a proper subject for consideration."

And this, too, notwithstanding one of the eminent advocates of free trade in that body, hailing from New England, had in the discussion seriously complained of the duty on pig iron, alleging that "Somebody pays it to somebody else in this country,in order to maintain pig-iron wages at two dollars a day."—That gentleman had never traveled very much through the regions where pig iron is made, or if he had kept either ears or eyes open he would not have thought it much of a boon to pay those laborers two dollars per day. They, to quote the language of another free-trade theorist, "can do better."

Having quoted a writer in old England on free trade, let me also quote one in New England. Professor Walker, author of The Science of Wealth, written in the interest of free trade, page 93, says:

"At present iron cannot be so cheaply and extensively produced in the United States as to exclude the foreign article—Why is this? We answer negatively:

"First, not that we do not know how to make it." * * * * *

"Second, not that we have not sufficient capital." * * * *

"Third, not that we have not the best natural facilities for the manufacture. * *

"Fourth, not that the manufacturer here lacks a good natural protection."

After amplifying each of these negative answers, he then prodeeds:

"Why, then, with all these natural facilities, do we not produce all our iron without governmental protection? There is but one reason. We can do better.—We can obtain our iron with less labor than by making it."

After stating that labor in Europe costs fifty per cent. less than in this country, and capital can be had at fifty per cent. less interest, he concludes:

"Thus it is that our unequaled natural advantages arising from cheap virgin lands render it unprofitable for us to make iron or engage in many other kinds of manufactures."

The plain English of all this is, "We ought to buy all our iron and all other kinds of manufactures in Europe, because they pay less there for labor than we do at home; we ought to be agriculturists exclusively, because our cheap land enables us to raise grains at a low rate, and with our wheat we ought to pay for all other products we need at the prices that cheap labor in Europe will give them to us."

Who agrees to these propositions? I deny the soundness of the position. I affirm that the true interest of our country requires that we should manufacture all articles that we have the natural facilities for producing, that the labor employed should be well paid, and that we should place such a duty on foreign manufactures coming in competition with our own as will prevent them from driving our own out of the market, thereby depriving the American laborer of remunerative employment.

I do not stop here to repeat the arguments about the home markets that are furnished by domestic manufactories, the advantages of a diversified industry, the effect of competition, the national independence and security in case of war, the effect of sending abroad annually for foreign products more bullion than our mines produce, and the numerous questions that at once suggest themselves and that have become so familiar to the American people by discussion from the time of Hamilton's report in 1791, down to the present hour. All these have often been treated as if they concerned the capitalists alone, and the proprietors of mills and forges have been thrust into the foreground as the only interested persons. There are but a few of those interested, and their interest is not so great as that of the laborer, as has been abundantly shown and testified before the Finance Committee.

Let us look for a moment at the difference between American and European wages. That I may not quote entirely from sources that may be charged with protective leanings, I insert here a table compiled from the report of Hon. D. A. Wells, special Commissioner of the Revenue, for 1868:

Excess of wages paid laborers in the United States in 1867 over those paid same laborers in Great Britain in 1866.

Ship builders	47,58
Paper mills	93,
Silk hats	80,
Glass-works	45,
Leather	48,
Gas-works	62,
Saws	67,52
Fire arms	56,
Edge tools	50,
Hardware	40,
Founderies	57,
Rolling mills	48,34
Sugar refineries	65,
Worsted	58,
Woolen mills	24,63
Cotton mills	47,

Average on sixteen occupations, 55,56 per cent.

Thus it will be seen that there was an average of 55,56 per cent. of excess paid to the same classes of laborers in this country in 1867 over what was paid in 1866 in Great Britain to the same classes.

From the same report I take the average duties paid on imports for the years ranging from 1861 to 1868, as follows:

1862	26,70
1863	33,20
1864	37.20
1865	43.70
1866	47.06
1867	47.34
1868	47.86
	283,06

Average duty 40 43 per cent.

Thus showing that the average duties upon imports in this country from 1862 to 1868 were but 40,43 per cent., while we paid an excess of 55.56 of wages to our laborers over those of Great Britain.

Mr. Morton. I ask the Senator if he has any estimate, in connection with that proposition, of the cost of transportation?

Mr. Scott. I have not an estimate of the cost of transportation, for the reason that that would vary on each separate product, depending upon bulk, weight, &c., and I suppose it would be very difficult to get.

* * * * * * *

Coming down nearer to the present time I quote on this subject from a paper edited by a most accurate and accomplished statistician, Mr. Benjamin Bannan, of the Miners' Journal, Pottsville, Pennsylvania, as follows:

"That the protective system is really the workingman's question, is apparent from the following comparative table of wages per day in a western mill in 1871, and in England, gold being taken at 112:

Operative.	United States. Currency	United States. Gold	England. American gold.	Excess in United States gold.
Puddlers	$5 62	$4 48	$1 40	$3 02 or 207 per cent.
Puddlers, (helpers)	2 51	2 24	75	1 49 or 199 per cent.
Rollers	6 00	7 14	2 00	5 14 or 257 per cent.
Heaters	5 99	5 33	2 06	3 27 or 157 per cent.
Heaters, (helpers)	2 25	2 01	1 00	1 01 or 101 per cent.
Catchers	2 75	2 45	1 00	1 45 or 145 per cent.
Machinists	3 12	2 78	1 25	1 53 or 122 per cent.
Blacksmith	3 88	3 46	1 25	2 21 or 177 per cent.
Boy	1 29	1 15	42	73 or 174 per cent.

"Thus wages of those receiving highest lowest, and average rates are from two to three and a half times in gold those paid in England. The few lads, less than sixteen to eighteen in American mills—and there are ten boys in British mills to one in an American—earn as much as many skilled English workmen after seven years' service. Many of the workmen in the mills of this country in 1869 paid income tax to the Government thus showing their earnings exceeded $1,000 per annum.

"The comparison of wages is even more striking if given by the ton, than by the day. Thus, puddlers received, in the western mill quoted, six dollars per ton, gold, against $2 37, the average price in England, and this gain to the foreign manufacturer of $3 63 per ton on this single item, representing less than one third the cost of wages per ton, is more than many of our manufacturers have asked as their profit on a ton of finished iron.

"The average wages, at the close of 1871, in the item of puddling, on the Atlantic coast of the United States and in England, were: United States, currency, $6 75; gold, $5 18; gold at 110; England, gold, $2 42; excess in the United States, $2 76; and this after an advance in England of twenty to twenty-five per cent. in the rate of wages during the year."

The Committee on Finance have been hearing the statements of practical men, capitalists and laborers, within the last two months,and the testimony is uniform from them all that the point of contest between the manufactures of other countries, and our own lies in the higher wages paid here; that a reduction of duty simply means a reduction of the wages of labor.

THE TICKET.—Gen. Jno F. Hartranft was nominated on Wednesday last for Governor of Pennsylvania by a vote of 87 on 1st ballot. It is the best nomination that could have been made. We are delighted with it. Hartranft the good, the pure, the brave. We led this time. We didn't follow. His nomination is the peoples triumph. Three cheers for Hartranft Meredu, Allen and the whole Republican ticket.

THE PRESENT QUESTION.

The making of a Constitution, says the Pittsburgh Commercial, for a great State like Pennsylvania is not so trifling a matter that the task may be safely confided to whoever is willing to undertake it. Such an event is always a crisis in the history of any State, for its future depends on the manner in which the work of rehabilitation is done. When so many interests and so large a body of people are to be affected by the result, the proper discharge of the duty would seem to require little less than universal knowledge joined to the highest degree of honesty and patriotism. And yet, strange as it may seem, there is never wanting those who are not only willing to undertake but think they are specially qualified to do the work. It is probably true, however, that but a small part of them possess a single qualification for it. Nevertheless—and this is the worst part of the matter—a Constitutional Convention, whenever or wherever assembled, is likely to be largely composed of precisely such persons. The anchor of safety consists in the exceptions, and it is to the importance of having the exceptions as numerous and marked as possible that we desire to stir up public sentiment in Pennsylvania. The State is about entering on such a crisis as we have described. Within a few weeks—months at the farthest—the people will be called on to select agents to frame for them a new constitution. They should begin now to think seriously on the matter. The Convention itself should be composed of the State's best intelligence and most undoubted wisdom—of men selected for the most perfect acquaintance with and as the fittest representative of the varied interest involved. It is unnecessary to readers of ordinary intelligence to specify at length in this regard. When a ship is to be sent to sea on a special service those in whose interest she goes out need not be told what kind of men should have charge of her from the Captain down to the most humble servant. One is as important in his place as the other—the accomplishment of the object must depend on the wisdom displayed in selecting them all. As no prudent owner would officer and man a ship with persons not possessed of some known or presumed special fitness, so when the ship of State is to be refitted, the people can never be safe if they do not exercise the greatest watchfulness and a stern resolve that no minor considerations shall swerve them from confiding the task to those who are perfectly qualified for it.

The people of Pennsylvania should without any delay give heed to this subject. Let them everywhere, and every citizen for himself, be fully determined that, come what may, none but the best men shall be chosen to the convention; that unfit aspirants shall stand no chance clamor as much as they will; that, for once, at least, the State shall have the benefit of the largest intelligence, best experience and most perfect wisdom that can be commanded.

GREELEY'S INDICIMENT.

We have hitherto referred to the indictment against the Republican party by Mr. Greeley and his nineteen friends, and herewith present all the specifications contained in the document with an analysis of each made by an ably conducted exchange. Here are the counts:

1. That the Republican party is under the control of those who will use it chiefly for personal purposes, and to obstruct the free expression of opinion on important matters.

2. Asserts that political offenses should be pardoned.

3. That all citizens should be protected in the enjoyment of the rights guaranteed them by the Constitution.

4. That Federal taxation should be imposed for revenue.

5. That reform in the civil service should be such as to relieve political action from official patronage.

6. That the right of self government should be re-asserted and the encroachments of the Federal power checked.

7. That a special duty rests upon the people to do away with corruption in office.

8. Refers to the exposures of Tammany frauds in New York.

9. Expresses the hope that the Cincinnati Convention will be a success, and pledges the Council of Twenty to be there on the first Wednesday of May next.

In commenting on these specifications the Chicago Inter-Ocean manages to thus cleverly dispose of them in regular order. It says:

The positions taken, which are well founded, are cardinal principles of the party from which the "twenty" are proposing to recede, while, on the other hand, the false doctrines set forth are precisely those with which the Democracy—to whom they propose to look for help—is thoroughly identified.

The first charge that "the Republican party is under the control of individuals" is a gross libel upon the most independent membership that ever composed a political party in this country or any other. A clique undertook to control it in 1863 by attempting to defeat the renomination of President Lincoln, but the masses of the party rebuked the political schemers by renominating him by acclamation. What the "twenty" want is precisely that which they charge to exist in the Republican party, namely, to control millions of Republican voters "for personal purposes."

2. The "twenty" desire "the pardon of political offenses." That is to say, they want the man who beat, tortured, starved, poisoned and murdered Union prisoners at Andersonville, and other Southern prison pens, restored to all the political rights enjoyed by the man who fought and bled for the salvation of the nation. The horrible crimes of the rebellion designated by the rose-water term "political offenses."

3. Mr Greeley and his friends think "all citizens should be protected in the enjoyment of the rights guaranteed them by the Constitution;" or, in other words, they demand the repeal of the Ku Klux law, so that desperadoes in South Carolina and Georgia may have free license to burn, rob and murder negroes and their wives and children.

4. The manifesto declares "that Federal taxation should be imposed for revenue." Only a few days since Mr. Greeley said "if such a plank was to be inserted in the Cincinnati platform he could be counted out," and yet he is now so fierce for a new party, his "personal grievances" are so overwhelming, his spite against President Grant is so great, that he turns sharp on the darling principle of a life time, and puts his name to a letter denouncing the principle of protection to home industry, if that plank of the letter means anything in the ordinary interpretation of political phraseology.

5. The letter "demands civil service reform." The Republican party is the only political organization that ever made an effort to inaugurate it. It was President Jackson who declared that "to the victors belong the spoils," and the Democratic party lived and died in the active fulfillment of the policy thus declared. President Grant recommended civil service reform, a Republican Congress sanctioned it, and the Republican party of the nation supports it.

The sixth plank is a revival of the doctrine of State's rights. It is not surprising that Mr. Greeley should accept this old exploded idea. At the breaking out of the rebellion he wanted Mr. Lincoln to let the South go. He demanded peace at any price; and while the Republican party fought to crush the rebellion, Mr. Greeley went to Niagara Falls to patch up a dishonorable compromise. Every old Democrat in the South believes in the doctrine of State's rights; and by the adoption of the sixth plank of the letter the "twenty" land themselves squarely in the Democratic camp, and virtually subscribe to a dissolution of the Union, or a new rebellion.

The reference to corruption, and specifically to the Tammany frauds, in the seventh and eighth planks, by Mr. Greeley, is peculiarly unfortunate. Tammany was prosecuted and brought to justice by a Republican Administration journal; the indictment had been drawn, the culprits brought before the tribunal of an indignant public opinion, and the trial had proceeded far toward conviction before Mr. Greeley's paper gave any material aid to the cause of the people against a Democratic cabal, reeking with the most gigantic system of fraud and corruption known to modern municipal history. Tammany is the only exposition of Democratic government recently extant. Democracy in power might reasonably be expected to do for the nation what it did for New York city. Through the central point of their letter—free trade and State's rights—Mr. Greeley and his friends throw themselves into the arms of ancient Democracy to fight for the lost cause.

GREAT SPEECHES—A TELLING RECORD.

We subjoin for public information a list of thrilling "campaign speeches" made by General Hartranft during the eventful years 1861-2-3-4-5. What a glorious record of services rendered it presents. It is only necessary to glance at it to be convinced that the Republican Convention has selected a standard bearer worthy of the party—one whose name (coupled with its deeds) is a tower of strength which no Democratic thunder can shake. We have the "right man in the right place," and the word is "Advance!" Read the record:

THAT LINE FENCE.

Old farmer Smith came home in a miff
From his field the other day,
While his sweet little wife, the pride of his life
At her wheel was spinning away.

And ever anon, a gay little song,
With the buzz of her wheel kept time;
And his wrathful brow is clearing now,
Under her cheerful rhyme.

"Come, come, little Turk, put away your work,
And listen to what I say;
What can I do but a quarrel brew,
With the man across the way?

"I have built my fence, but he won't commence
To lay a single rail;
His cattle get in, and the feeds gets thin —
I am tempted to make a sale!"

"Why John, dear John, how you do go on!
I'm afraid it will be as they say."
"No, no, little wife, I have heard that strife
In a lawyer's hand don't pay.

"He is picking a flaw, to drive me to law,
I am told that he said he would;
And you know, long ago, law wronged me so,
I vowed that I never should.

"So what can I do, that I will not rue,
To the man across the way?"
"If that's what you want, I can help you haunt
That man with a spectre gray.

"Thirty dollars will do to carry you through,
And then you have gained a neighbor;
It would cost you more to peep in the door
Of a court, and much more labor.

"Just use your good sense—let's build him a fence,
And shame bad act out of the fellow."
They built up his part, and sent to his heart
Love's dart, where the good thoughts mellow.

That very same night, by the candle light,
They opened with interest, a letter.
Not a word was there, but three greenbacks fair
Said the man was growing better.

Mode Of Harvesting Wheat In California.

Wheat is sometimes cut down with a reaper and bound into sheaves; but more generally it is headed. The latter process is the cheaper one, but can not be followed when the crop is extremely heavy and lying on the ground. In heading, the machine cuts the crop and passes it into a wagon. It is then hauled off to a convenient position, and piled up unbound in a heap, where it awaits the arrival of the thrasher. Whether reaped or headed, it is unnecessary to go to any expense in protecting it from the weather. If the farmer means to sell it soon after being thrashed, he has no need to haul it to his granary. After the thrashing is over, immense piles of sacks can be seen lying for months in the open field. They are perfectly safe; they are never stolen and never injured by the weather. Accompanying the header, there are usually five men, three wagons, and twelve horses. The men and horses are hired by the owner of the header. but boarded by the owner of the wheat. A good header will cut about eighteen acres daily; for which a price, varying from $1 50 to $2 per acre, is paid. The farmer must also keep a man to stack the wheat, costing $5 more daily. Assuming the price paid to the owner of the header to be $1. 75 per acre, his whole outlay would be $39 50, or $2.20 per acre. Out of this $39 50, the owner of the header receives $31 50. His expenses are; one man to attend to the header, $4 per day; four more men at $1 50 each per day, and twelve horses at 25 cents each, if he has to hire them—making, in all, $13. and leaving a daily profit of $18 50. These figures also apply to rich land that yields twenty or twenty-five sacks to the acre. Most of the wheat is now thrashed by steam. A steam machine will average about eight hundred sacks of one hundred pounds each daily. The price paid to the owner of the machine may be set down at eight cents per sack. With the machine are four men and six horses, which are to be fed by the farmer. Besides these, there will be fifteen more men required, and these the farmer must feed and pay. As the work is hard, employment at this season easily obtained they received $2 per day and board. Wood for the engine costs the farmer $6 per day. making in all $111 50, or about 14 cents per sack. After deducting his expenses, the owner of the thrasher will clear about $40 per day. His machinery costs about $2,500; but, as he gets about sixty days' work during the thrashing season, the machine nearly pays for itself in one year. It will be seen from these figures that the farmer can get his crops harvested at a small expense; and at the same time, if he has money to invest in machinery, he can obtain good interest on his outlay.—From "Wines and Advantages of California," in the OVERLAND MONTHLY for April.

Charcoal For Farm Animals.

Very few know how to treat farm animals when taken sick; and usually in the anxiety to relieve the poor creatures, all manner of hurtful nostrums, medicines, etc., are poured down their throats. In many cases it would be far better to give them nothing at all, until the proprietor knows what is the matter, and learns how to treat the disorder judiciously. Attend to every exterior comfort of the animal. Provide for it a good sheltered bed, with pure air and cleanly surroundings. One article has been often used as a medicine in cases of sickness which has always proved eminently beneficial; and that is pulverized charcoal. Most of the disorders of animals come either from over-eating or insufficient digestion; and where this is the case charcoal is just the thing to apply, and it should be administered promptly. An example of its value is afforded in the case of a farmer in Central New York. The hired man came in with the intelligence that one of the finest cows was very sick, and a kind neighbor proposed the usual drugs and poisons. The owner being ill, and unable to examine the cow, concluded that the trouble came from some overheating, and ordered a teacupful of pulverized charcoal, given in water. It was mixed, placed in a junk bottle, the head held upward, and the water with its charcoal poured downward. In five minutes improvement was visible, and in a few hours the animal was in the pasture, quietly eating grass. Another instance of equal success occurred with a young heifer which became badly bloated by eating green apples, after a hard wind. The bloat was so severe that the sides were almost as hard as a barrel. The old remedy (saleratus) was tried, for the purpose of correcting the acidity, but the attempt to put it down always caused coughing, and it did little good. Half a teacupful of fresh powdered charcoal was next given. In six hours all appearance of bloat had gone, and the heifer was well.

Fresh charcoal is better to use than old. It may be made by taking fresh embers or coals from a wood-fire, and pounding them up finely. Charcoal can never do any injury when used in moderation. It is neither poisonous nor can make an animal sick. It acts only for good, if at all.

Give your animals when sick good, clean, warm quarters. Do not feed too much, and administer fair does of charcoal.

Read This, Boys.

A gentleman advertised for a boy to assist him in his office, and nearly fifty applicants presented themselves to him. Out of the whole number, he in a short time selected one and dismissed the rest.

"I should like to know," said a friend, "on what ground did you select that boy, who had not a single recommendation."

"You are mistaken." said the gentleman. "He had a great many. He wiped his feet when he came in, and closed the door after him, showing that he was careful. He gave up his seat instantly to that lame old man, showing that he was kind and thoughtful. He took off his cap when he came in, and answered my questions promptly and respectfully, showing he was polite and gentlemanly. He picked up the book which I had purposely laid upon the floor, and replaced it on the table, while all the rest stepped over it or shoved it aside, and he waited quietly for his turn, instead of pushing and crowding, showing that he was honest and orderly. When I talked with him I noticed that his clothes were carefully brushed, his hair in nice order, and his teeth as white as milk; and when he wrote his name, I noticed his finger-nails were clean, instead of being tipped with jet, like that handsome little fellow's in the blue jacket. Don't you call these things letters of recommendation? I do, and I would give more for what I can tell about a boy by using my eyes ten minutes than all the letters he can bring me."—Selected.

Hoofland's German Bitters.

A Bitters without Alcohol or Spirits of any kind.

Is different from all others. It is composed of the pure Juices, or VITAL PRINCIPLE OF ROOTS, HERBS, and BARKS, (or, as medicinally termed, Extracts,) the worthless or inert portions of the ingredients not being used. Therefore in one Bottle of this Bitters there is contained as much medicinal virtue as will be found in several gallons or ordinary mixtures. The Roots, &c., used in this Bitters are grown in Germany, their vital principles extracted in that country by a scientific Chemist, and forwarded to the manufactory in this city, when they compounded and bottled. Containing no spirituous ingredients, this Bitters is free from the objections urged against all others: no desire for stimulants can be induced from their use, they cannot make drunkards, and cannot under any circumstances, have any but a beneficial effect.

Hoofland's German Tonic.

Was compounded for those not inclined to extreme bitters, and is intended for use in cases when some alcoholic stimulant is required in connection with the Tonic properties of the Bitters. Each bottle of the tonic contains one bottle of the Bitters, combined with pure SANTA CRUZ RUM, and flavored in such a manner that the extreme bitterness of the bitters is overcome forming a preparation highly agreeable and pleasant to the palate, and containing the medicinal virtues of the Bitters. The price of the Tonic is $1,50 per Bottle, which many persons think too high. They must take into consideration that the stimulant used is guaranteed to be of a pure quality. A poor article could be furnished at a cheaper price, but is it not better to pay a little more and have a good article? A medicinal preparation should contain none but the best ingredients; and they who expect to obtain a cheap compound, and be benefitted by it, will most certainly be cheated.

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1871.

I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in case of debility and want of nervous action in the system. Yours, truly,

HON. JAS. THOMPSON, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania,

PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1867.

I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my own experience of it.
Yours, with respect, JAS. THOMPSON.

HON. GEORGE SHARSWOOD, Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1, 1868.

I have found by experience that "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a very good tonic, relieving dyspeptic symptoms almost directly.
GEORGE SHARSWOOD

HON. JAS. M. WOOD, Ex-Mayor of Williamsport, Pa.

I take great pleasure in recommending "Hoofland's German Tonic" to any one who may be afflicted with Dyspepsia. I had the Dyspepsia so badly it was impossible to keep any food on my stomach, and I became so week, as not to be able to walk half a mile. Two bottles of Tonic effected a perfect cure. JAMES M. DR. HOOFLAND'S
PODOPHYLLIN,
Or Substitue for Mercury Pills.
TWO PILLS A DOSE.
The Most Powerful, Yet Innocent Vegetable Cathartic Known.

It is not necessary to take a handful of these Pills to produce the desired effect; two of them act quickly and powerfully, cleansing the Liver, Stomach and Bowels all impurities. The principal ingredient is Podophyllin, or the Alcoholic Extract of Mandrake, which is by many times more powerful, acting and searching than the Mandrake itself. Its peculiar action is upon the Liver, cleaning it speedily from all obstructions, with all the power of Mercury, yet free from the injurious results attached to the use of that mineral.

For all diseases, in which the use of a cathartic is indicated, these pills will give entire satisfaction in every case. They NEVER FAIL.

In cases of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia and extreme costiveness, Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic should be used in connection with the Pills. The tonic effect of the Bitters or Tonic builds up the system. The Bitters or Tonic purifies the Blood, strengthens the Nerves, REGULATES the Liver, and gives strength, energy and vigor.

Keep your Bowels active with the Pills, and tone up the system with Bitters or Tonic, and no disease can retain a hold, or ever assail you.

Recollect that it is DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN REMEDIES that are so universally used and highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggist to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it. Ayer's Cherr Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Coughs, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so wide and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to cold and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgements we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either residence in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the Ague Cure daily

For Liver Complaints, arise from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Perpared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

A RESUME OF CURRENT OPINION, HOME AND FOREIGN.

THE WEEK fills a place unoccupied hitherto in American journalism, though its importance has long ago been demonstrated in England. From week to week it presents the cream of home and foreign journalism, and gathers from the leading papers of America and England, and of all sections and parties, the most important utterances on current questions of Politics, Society, Religion, Literature, Science, Art, Music, the Drama, and all other topics likely to interest the reader. In addition to the longer articles, which themselves cover every variety of subject, there is Literary Gossip, Science and Art Gossip, Musical and Dramatic Gossip, and General Notes and News, giving the freshest and most copious intelligence in all these departments In no other paper can be found so large and so various an amount of instructive and entertaining reading matter.

The first No. of THE WEEK was published on December 2d of last year, and in the short space of two months has achieved a most decided and flattering success. No paper has ever received more cordial words from the press and the cities, and it is the general testimony that The Week has met an important and well-defined want in the journalism of America.

Read what the Press says.

THE WEEK is the title of a new paper which bids fair to fill a void in New York journalism. It is filled with a selection of the more noticeable articles of the various daily papers—not editorial merely, but extra to also from news and correspondence. Thus at a glance the busy man who has had no leisure to see more than one, if any, daily paper during the week, gets the cream of the entire newspaper literature—not the metropolitan only, but of other cities, and to some extent of foreign capitals also.—Brooklyn Eagle.

THE WEEK is a new paper which ought to take a permanent place in American journalism. Possessed of it the reader will find that he can dispense with most other journals and still keep abreast of the most enlightened current opinion on Politics, Society, Religion, Art, Music, and the Drama, and the like.—Springfield Republican.

THE WEEK is the title of a new paper whose idea we like. The selections are well made, and we hope THE WEEK will find abundant patronage.—Independent.

Its success ought not to be a matter of doubt.—Chicago Journal.

THE WEEK is a 16 page paper of large size, with three broad columns to the page, and is neatly and tastefully printed.

These scales are brought to a perfect degree of accuracy and they can be relied upon in every transaction of weight. In addition to insuring fair dealing such an apparatus will enable one to conduct many interesting and profitable experiments in feeding stock, &c., and to ascertain their comparative thrift at any time. They are also agents for the greatest blessing of the 19th century, the Wakefield Earth Closet. Send for our descriptive pamphlet, or call and see one at Burnside & Thomas' store. They are also agents for the Babcock Fire Extinguisher, and Farrel & Hering's Safes.

SPOT HIM.—The Cleveland papers warn the public against an imposter who is traveling about the country representing himself as a "secret service detective." He calls himself Joseph Walker, and claims Bethlehem, in this State, as his place of residence. His modus operandi is to approach his victim with a cock-and-bull story that he has an office in the United States secret service, and that by order of the Secretary of the Treasury he will on the beginning of the next fiscal year assume the position of chief of the secret service department, in place of the present incumbent, Col Whitley. He carries with him either forged or genuine letters of reference from Governor Geary, Senator Cameron and other prominent personages. On the strength of his affirmation he extorts money from parties, to whom he promises situations as assistants after he shall have assumed general charge, assigning to one person the supervision over one State. He travels on free passes, which he obtains by representing himself to be so high an officer in the service. It is said, also, that he is in the habit of putting up at first-class hotels, and leaving without troubling himself to pay his bills. The paper from which we obtain these facts says if it is not mistaken there is now an indictment against him in the Indiana courts for burglary.

SEWING MACHINE SALES FOR 1871.—The magnitude to which the sewing machine business has grown is only surpassed by the rivalry of the various competitors, few of whom are unfamiliar with the numerous artifices resorted to for the commendation and sale of the particular machine sought to be sold.—If the number of sales be any criterion of merit, the Singer seems to bear the palm, as shown by sworn returns of the companies, made under the licenses granted them by the owners of the sewing machine patents, and which are as follows:

THE SINGER MF'G CO. Sold	181,260	Machines

THE VOICE OF THE PRESS.

ENTHUSIASTIC ENDORSEMENT OF GEN. HARTRANFT AND THE ENTIRE TICKET.

"AS WAS SAID OF BAYARD."

[From the Harrisburg Telegraph.]

It is with feelings of no ordinary gratification we announce the nomination, by the Republican State Convention, of General John F. Hartranft as the party candidate for Governor of this great Commonwealth. Among all the aspirants for that high honor—good men and true—his was the name of greatest note, and upon him the convention rallied as the one man with whom, as the leader of the party in the coming contest, victory was certain.—As a military man, his record is brilliant. A brave, able, and successful commander, faithful in the discharge of all duties entrusted to him, it may be said of him, as was said of Bayard, "sans peur et sans reproache." Nor is his record in civil life as a State official in any degree less unexceptionable. As Auditor General of the Commonwealth he has discharged his official duties with great ability and with the strictest fidelity to the interests of the State. We are not unaware that charges and insinuations against his official conduct will be made by his political enemies—who never pause to consult truth in their assault upon opponents—but these, in the light of disproving testimony, will amount to nothing; and, despite all efforts and combinations which can be made to defeat him, his triumphant election next fall by the people whom he has served faithfully as a military man and State official, is as certain as any event in the future can be.

SINGULAR AND INSTRUCTIVE FACTS.

[From the Harrisburg State Journal.]

It is a singular and instructive fact that in making candidates for the Republican party there is always a fierce and even a desperate struggle, the effect of which would be to shiver any other organization, while in our case it only tightens the bands which hold us together after a nominating contest is over. The cause of this fight, so to call it, for nomination is traceable to the fact that our party is made up of strong and decided men, who believe in outspoken independence and fearless action, but who, after a result has been manfully achieved, accept it in a spirit of cordial acquiescence as the best that could be done for principle. We never disconnect men from measures, and it is undeniably true that the men whom the Republican party elect to high places of trust and honor are faithful to the confidence reposed in them. If this had not been true in an eminent degree, we would have been without a government to day, the Union dissevered, the States bankrupt, and the people in a condition far below the most degraded population of oppressed Europe. But thanks to the Republican party, we have been saved from such calamities by the men whom it has put into power; and that this state of affairs may be perpetuated we are again before the people with candidates for high offices whose fitness for the positions for which they have been named is beyond all question. There is not a vulnerable spot in our State ticket. It is as impregnable as the Union, and will be maintained at the ballot box as the Union was defended on the battle field by loyal hands and hearts.

THE SOLDIERS HONORED.

[From the Pittsburg Dispatch.]

The record made by General Hartranft during the war, and the capacity shown by him in civil life, will be positive elements in the campaign. Of these we have not the space to speak particularly at the present. It is well known that he made for himself a brilliant record during the war, and that he is loved and honored by the old soldiers in the service to-day. This element was largely represented in the convention, and controlled, in a good degree, the nomination. Hence it seems as though the party were called on to honor, not merely General Hartranft alone, but the fervent wishes of the soldiers who fought with him against the rebellion, and who are scattered throughout the State as citizens. Such a concession will be worthy the Republican party. It has thought it worth its while to honor soldiers who had but a slender following among the soldiery; now the call is to honor one in whose elevation the mass of soldiers take pride.

HARTRANFT THE CHOICE OF THE MAJORITY.

[From the Pittsburg Commercial.]

At the time we write, the full proceedings of the Republican State Convention, at Harrisburg yesterday, have not been received—nothing, in fact, beyond the nomination of General Hartranft for Governor. The convention was composed of delegates as fairly chosen, we believe, as any that ever met. The decided majority from the start for General Hartranft, we have no reason to suppose did not truly represent the popular choice among Republicans. It was but natural that there should be a difference of opinion—such a state of things is always a healthy sign, rather than the reverse—but the will of the majority, deliberately recorded after the delegates had consulted together with an anxious desire, as we have reason to believe was the case at Harrisburg yesterday, to do nothing that would not redound to the advantage of Republican principles by insuring the success of the party, will without any doubt be universally and cheerfully acquiesced in by Republicans at large. There were other candidates for Governor, on which office was the principal contest, besides Gen. Hartranft, before the convention, any one of whom would have been as cheerfully acquiesced in and with whom success would have been as certain.

Standing on the threshold of the Presidential canvass, the Republicans of Pennsylvania have a high duty to themselves and to their country to perform. Not to unite, heartily and determinedly, is to throw away the State on the Presidency, and that would be throwing away the Presidency itself. With General Hartranft we have carried the State before and with him we can carry it again and in doing so insure success in the Presidential battle. This is the only light in which Republicans should view the question; and they should prepare to do their whole duty—either this or surrender to the old enemy at once.—On the consequences of such a course we need not comment. It is solely on Republican dissensions that the Democrats base any hope they may have regarding the Presidency. It is for the Republicans themselves to say whether they shall be disappointed.

THE PEOPLE SELDOM ERR.

[From the Norristown Independent.]

The people seldom err, and their convictions had crystalized around the hero of Fort Steadman months ago, and marked him as the coming man to lead the loyal masses to certain victory in the approaching struggle, which is virtually to secure the ascendancy of the Republican party in the Commonwealth and the Union during the Centennial Epoch, which will thrill the civilized world with our achievements as a nation.

WORK WELL DONE.

[From the Norristown Herald.]

The work done by the representatives of the Republican party on the occasion was well done as will be proved on the second Tuesday in October next. General John F. Hartranft, of our own county, was nominated on the first ballot for Governor by a vote sufficiently large to banish any doubt, if any existed, of his continued popularity with the masses, and is at once an endorsement that any public officer may well covet. The history of General Hartranft is so well known to our readers that it is unnecessary to again go into details just here. His record as a soldier, as a public officer, and as a private citizen, challenges the closest scrutiny.

A RECORD WHICH FEW CAN BOAST.

[From the Pittsburg Mail.]

As a citizen and a soldier he has a record of which few can boast. As an officer of the State he has been vigilant and attentive, and in every public relation has been faithful to the interests of the people. He is the choice of the soldiers of the State, who, knowing his sterling qualities of head and heart, have urged his claims with a pertinacity that the politicians could not withstand. He will have a more cowardly and unrelenting foe to combat than the rebels at Fort Steadman, and the faith is in us that he will overcome the former as he did the latter.

TRIED AND NOT FOUND WANTING.

[From the West Chester Village Record.]

The convention have done its work, its members returned home, and the campaign for 1872 in Pennsylvania has begun. Our standard-bearers are all men who have been tried and not found wanting: the platform on which they are nominated embodies the principles of the majority of the people of the State, yet there is much work ahead before the nominations are passed into elections, but that they will be, and that the deliberations of the convention will be fully ratified, we entertain no doubt. The record of the party, the state of the country and of the Commonwealth to-day, and the abundant promise of the future, guarantee popular judgment and consequent action.

FULLY COMPETENT TO DISCHARGE HIS TRUST.

[From the Reading Dispatch.]

In civil life, as in military, he has shown himself fully competent to discharge the responsible trusts reposed in him. He has ability and patriotism, is a man of honor and probity, and his services deserved the high recognition accorded him by the great party of which he is an honored member. His official record is free from blemish, and few men are more worthy of private esteem, or more deserving of public honor. We look upon him as one whom honest men can cast their ballots for, and whom all patriots will cheerfully support. With such a candidate, victory is assured.

ENTHUSIASTICALLY RECEIVED ALL OVER THE STATE.

[From the Norristown Herald.]

The nomination of General Hartranft for Governor is enthusiastically received all over the State. The ticket is conceded to be an excellent one, and will rally the full strength of the party in October.

PRINCIPLES NOT MEN.

[From the Williamsport Gazette & Bulletin.]

"It is of vital importance that there should be no dissension in the party, and there should be a united effort to sustain the candidates, now that the nominations have been made. 'Principles, not men,' should be the motto of all who wish their country well. Standing on the threshold of the Presidential campaign, the Republicans of the great State of Pennsylvania have a responsible duty to themselves and the country to perform. Not to unite, heartily and determinedly at this critical juncture, is to, perhaps, throw away the State on the Presidency, and that would be throwing away the Presidency itself. Gen. Hartranft is a tried and true friend of those great principles which cost so much blood and treasure to establish. He has been triumphantly elected before—why can he not be again? This is the only light in which Republicans should view the question. If they fail in this they surrender to the enemy, who now stands ready to strike the great party down. It is solely on dissensions that the Democrats hope to ride into power. The consequences of defeat would be most disastrous, our great industries would be paralyzed, the pride and glory of our country gone, our credit as a nation impaired abroad, and the Lost Cause would again be revived. Is any Republican willing to aid in bringing about such a fearful state of affairs? No. Then buckle on your armor for the conflict, unfurl the old flag again and march forward to victory."

NOTHING BUT PRAISE.

[From the Philadelphia Bulletin.]

The Republican State Convention has done an excellent work at Harrisburg. It has presented one of the strongest tickets which the State could produce, and has ensured a brilliant victory for the Republican principles in the coming campaign.

It is not needful to enlarge upon the merits of the gubernatorial nomination. As the Press said yesterday, "For Gen. Hartranft we have nothing but praise. He was a gallant soldier and he has been a faithful official. He is a radical Republican, and he will make a good Governor." He has just passed through the fire of one of the most wanton and malignant assaults upon his personal and official character, and there is not left even the smell of smoke upon his garments. * * * * * * It is out of these trials that General Hartranft comes before the people as the standard bearer of the Republican party. He has all the advantage of a recent and most searching investigation of his official career, which has resulted in his perfect vindication from every charge which the * * * * * conspirators brought against him.

General Hartranft has a quality which, next to his unstained integrity and his noble military record, will place him before the people with peculiar acceptance. * * * * * * * * He is a grave, quiet, dignified, thoughtful man, with the simple idea of duty always before him, and we hail his nomination with unmixed satisfaction.

HIS ENEMIES PRAISE HIM.

[From Forney's Weekly Press.]

General Hartranft is an earnest Republican, a gallant soldier, and a man whose character, both public and private, will, we believe, come forth unscathed from the severe ordeal of the canvass.

THE ENEMIES OF GEN. HARTRANFT.—The West Chester Republican hits the nail right on the head by the following paragraph in yesterday's issue:

Don't Like Him.—Col. John W. Forney protests against the nomination of General Hartranft for Governor. This is not at all surprising. If our memory serves us right, Hartranft refused to settle the Evans embezzlement, and in consequence of which the said Col. J. W. Forney was compelled to admit that he had received $2,000 of the money. Further comment is unnecessary.

THE chances are that the Democratic portion of the Cincinnati Convention will urge the nomination of Davis. It was always a favorite name with Copperheads. If there is any doubt of his fitness for the office, Mr. Greeley will doubtless go "bail" for him.

IOWA, NEBRASKA, KANSAS, CALIFORNIA.—Advertising alone does not produce success. The thing which is advertised must have intrinsic merit, or else large advertising will eventually do it more harm than good. If you have anything which you know to be good, advertise it thoroughly, and you will be sure to succeed; if it is poor, don't praise it, for people will soon discover you are lying.

Such is the policy of the BURLINGTON ROUTE, which runs to three great regions in the West: 1st, To Omaha, connecting with the great Pacific Roads. 2d, To Lincoln, the capital of Nebraska, and all that beautiful region south of the Platte, filled with R. R. lands and homesteads. 3d, To St. Joseph, Kansas City and all Kansas points.

The roads are splendidly built, have the best bridges, finest cars, the Miller platform and coupler, and the safety air brake (to prevent the loss of life that is every where else happening); Pullman's sleepers, Pullman dining cars, large and powerful engines (to make quick time and good connections), and are in a word the best equipped roads in the West. So that if you desire to go safely, surely, quickly and comfortably to any point in Southern Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, or on the Pacific Roads, be sure that you go "By Way of Burlington."

All who wish particular information, and a large map, showing correctly the Great West, and all its railroad connections, can obtain them, and any other knowledge, by addressing General Passenger Agent, B. & Mo. R. R. R., Burlington, Iowa. 14-3m.

A PLEA FOR CHILDREN.—A Boston paper has the following plea for children which is equally applicable to every community in the land. It says: "The season that tries children's souls—and bodies—is at hand. The cold damp season of early spring, with its penetrating breezes that chill the entire system and generate incipient croup, is already here, and it behooves every anxious parent to be on the alert if danger and perhaps death would be averted. Too many parents find their children's lives cut off by the want of a little care. Croup always originates in a cold, and in most cases cold is caused from exposure to dampness, either of the clothing or of the atmosphere. In many cases the primary cause is insufficient or improper clothing. Especially is this so with little girls. On this point a great responsibility lies with the mothers, and when a child loses its life either from the willful ignorance of its parent or the willful following of a fashion that leads to that result, what is it but inviting death? Let mothers become strong in common sense and resolve to raise their children, not bury them. Let them remember, also, that though sickness may sometimes be called "sent from God" in the true sense, that which is forced upon a helpless child is nothing less than a crime."

A. B. JACK, will lecture at Reynolds' Hall, April 25th, for the benefit of the Logan Fire Co; subject, "Burns."

THE news reaches us, says the Mail, from Harrisburg that Col. M'Clure heartily indorses Hartranft, and will work for his election. And to give color to the truth of the report, we have the following from the Harrisburg Telegraph: "We have the most positive assurance that Col. M'Clure will not go to Cincinnati either as a delegate or looker on. He was circulating among the Republican delegates yesterday, and expressed himself opposed to all caucusses, alleging that as he was at present situated his party was the most unanimous with which he had ever acted, the "Reform" faction in the Senate consisting of one man (himself), and it was therefore unanimous; but as soon as another was admitted there would be a difference of opinion, and that such a state of affairs would not suit him. He will therefore not go to Cincinnati. Will brother Greeley make a note of this?"

A HARRISBURG dispatch to the Phila., Press asserts that the nomination of Hartranft has decided the Democratic leaders to nominate no candidate against him, but that they will concur in the Labor Reform candidate, who, as we learn from other sources, is likely to be Captain M'Clellan, Member of Congress from the Lawrence district. This rather flattens out Gen. Cass, whose friends may yet have something to say. The fusion policy is a pertinent confession of Gen. Hartranft's overwhelming strength in the State.—Commercial.

DON'T FORGET that Hon. A. B. Jack, will Lecture on the evening of 25th inst., in Reynolds Hall. Subject "BURNS."

Parlor sets, made of the best of Walnut, can be purchased from him at from $240 to $140. Rev. D. S. Frost, Pastor of the Free Baptist Church, Jonesville, Vermont, writes: "I had suffered for many years from Chronic Diarrhœa and Colic, becoming so much reduced that I was at times unable to attend to my ministerial duties. I had been treated by several physicians, both Allopathic and Homœpathic, but with no permanent results. While on a visit to Scranton, Penna., I experienced a very severe attack, and by the advice of some of my friends procured a bottle of MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS. The effect then produced gave promise of an ultimate cure, and on my return home I continued its use. I have taken six bottles and am cured. It is truly a valuable remedy."

EDITORIAL NOTICES are so common that it is almost impossible for an editor to express his honest opinion of the merits of any article without being suspected of interested motives. This fact, however, shall not deter us from saying what we think of a new addition to the Materia Medica to which our attention has been recently directed. We refer to DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS, a remedy which is making its way into more families just now than all the other advertised medicines put together. There seems to be no question about the potency of its tonic and alterative properties, while it possesses the great negative recommendation of containing neither alcohol nor mineral poison. That it is a specific for Indigestion, Billiousness, Constipation, and many complaints of nervous origin, we have reason to know; and we are assured on good authority that as a general invigorant, regulating and purifying medicine, it has no equal. It is stated that its ingredients, (obtained from the wilds of California,) are new to the medical world; and its extraordinary effects certainly warrant the conclusion that it is a compound of agents hitherto unknown. If popularity is any criterion, there can be no doubt of the efficiency of the VINEGAR BITTERS, for the sale of the article is immense and continually increasing.
